Top off your wardrobe with a trip to Brixton's first Orange County store, now open at Fashion Island. Launched in 2004 in Oceanside by Jason Young, David Stoddard and Mike Chapin, the Californiacool apparel brand began with the debut of The Hooligan, a retro newsboy cap, that gave way to its now robust headwear selection, ranging from straw and bucket hats to wide-brimmed toppers to feather-festooned fedoras. While its name has become synonymous with headwear, the brand has since expanded into cashmere and flannel apparel for him, her and the little ones alike. Stop by the store, tucked near the Koi Pond, to discover the full range of offerings. brixton.com; fashionisland.com

The Gin Crowd

For Laguna Beach resident Eileen Keighley, the launch of Two Shores Gin is a passion project decades in the making. The small-batch spirit, which recently took home a gold medal at the 2022 San Diego Spirits Festival, pays homage to her late father, who taught her to forage botanicals in Scotland's verdant countryside as a child. Using those ingredients, he would craft gin, and Keighley is now bringing her father's efforts to the masses with the first spirit from her botanical-based beverage company, Laguna Beach Spirits Co. Made in partnership with a 12th-generation master distiller in London, Two Shores features 14 botanicals that please the palate with notes of citrus, juniper, prickly pear and more. Up next, Keighley will release more premium gins, ready-to-drink cocktails and nonalcoholic mixers. "In the U.S., gin is just now finding its way into the limelight," says Keighley. "I'm excited to introduce Two Shores Gin at a time when the nation's interest in the spirit is at a record high." Cheers! twoshoresgin.com
